Hy2Market Q3 Autumn Update

On the Road to the Final Conference

Results are in, and infrastructure in progress

This quarter, Hy2Market enters its final stretch. Our Sicily pilot is nearing completion, new results take our power-to-methane and e-fuels work a step further, and a busy autumn of events leads up to our Final Conference & H2 Convention.

Q3 Highlights

- European Hydrogen Week
- Final Conference & H2 Convention
- Meet us at DVGW Kongress & Wind meets Gas
- EUSEW webinar recap
- Sicily pilot nears completion
- New results: power-to-methane & e-fuels
- Voices of Hy2Market

EUSEW Webinar Recap: Stronger Together

Speakers from four European hydrogen projects explain why regional clusters work best when they learn from each other rather

Hydrogen Retrofit at Duferco Steel Plant Breaks Ground

Construction is well underway at the Hy2Market pilot at Giammoro in Sicily, where a green hydrogen plant will feed an existing turbine, with completion expected by the end of October.

Results & Reports

D2.14: New Detailed Model of the Power-to-Methane Process

ProzessOptimal has validated a detailed model of the power-to-methane process, using pilot-plant measurements from Montanuniversität Leoben to show how recycling, cooling and pressure keep the reactor safe and efficient.

D4.10: Two Roads From Green Hydrogen to Liquid Fuel

ProzessOptimal compares the Fischer-Tropsch and Methanol-to-Jet routes for turning green hydrogen and captured CO_2 into liquid fuel, finding Methanol-to-Jet the more efficient of the two and better suited to producing jet fuel.
